Reflection: Temptation

Abbot John, the Dwarf, prayed to the Lord to take away all his passions and the Lord granted his prayer. In this condition he went to one of the elders and said; "You see before you a man who is completely at rest and has no more temptations. The elder said to him; "Go and pray to the Lord to command some struggle to be stirred up in you, for the soul is matured only in battle." And when the temptations started up again, he did not pray that the struggle be taken away from him, but only said; "Lord, give me the strength to get through the fight."

In her writings, Flannery O'Connor, refers to the devil in the following humorous way; "A working knowledge of the devil can be very well had, from resisting him." In today's Gospel, we are invited to consider the three temptations the devil set before Christ as we too have to wrestle with similar temptations. The first temptation was to be selfish – thing only of ourselves; the second, idolatry – to worship the golden calf of materialism; the third, to put God to the test to bargain with God.

St Patrick's Day Collection. Please use your St Patrick's Day envelope for this collection. We appeal for your continued generosity towards Missionary work and Emigrant Chaplaincy. Thank you.

Daffodil Day: It's that time of year again when we need volunteers for Daffodil Day on Friday March 28th. If you can spare a couple of hours, please message or phone with your name, number and if you have a preference to (am) (pm) or (flexi), we will put you in touch with your Local Organiser or perhaps you may even want to run a Coffee Morning or other event at your place of work. Let's go all in against cancer and turn Cavan yellow this daffodil day. Please contact Martina on 0863782928. Many thanks for your continued support.
